Undergraduate Academic Regulations & Probation Bylaws

Official Reference Guide for Academic Advisors and Faculty

Article 14: Academic Probation and Good Standing

1. Any undergraduate student whose cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) falls below 65.0% at the end of any regular semester (Fall or Spring) shall be placed on Academic Probation.
2. First Probation: A student placed on first probation is officially notified and advised to restrict their course load to a maximum of 12 credit hours in the subsequent semester.
3. Second Probation: If a student fails to achieve a semester average of $\geq 65.0\%$ and their cumulative GPA remains below 65.0%, they will advance to Second Probation.
4. Strict Probation: Continued academic deficiency leads to Second or Third Strict Probation, which carries an immediate risk of academic dismissal if the student fails to demonstrate substantial GPA recovery.
5. Probation Removal: Once the cumulative GPA reaches 65.0% or higher, the student returns to Good Standing.

Article 18: Course Repetition Policy

1. A student may repeat any course in which they received a grade of F, D, or D+.
2. When a course is repeated, the higher grade obtained shall be counted in computing the cumulative GPA, though all attempts remain on the official transcript.
3. Students on academic probation are required to prioritize repeating prerequisite courses with grades below C before enrolling in higher-level electives.

Article 22: Course Load & Registration Limits

1. Normal course load for full-time undergraduate students is between 15 and 18 credit hours per semester.
2. Students on probation cannot register for more than 12 credit hours without written authorization from the Dean.
3. Graduating seniors in their final semester may register for up to 19 or 21 credit hours with college approval.
